AARP Foundation Tax-Aide Seeks Volunteers for 2016 Tax Season

More than 200 people received this service in 2015!

AARP Foundation Tax-Aide is seeking volunteers for the 2016 tax year. Volunteers do not need to have a background in accounting or financial planning to be an effective volunteer with the program. Volunteers will receive all the training they need to assist individuals with the preparation of federal and state basic income tax returns. The training, provided in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, includes tax law procedures, tax form preparation and how to use tax preparation software. Volunteers are reimbursed on a limited basis for qualified program-related expenses, including mileage, and do not need to be an AARP member or a retiree to participate.

You can go to this AARP site link below to find out more and apply or email Dave Meckenna, drmckenna1945@gmail.com if interested
